OPEN MIC NIGHT

It was an acoustic busking at our Kastle night. Scouts and staff were asked to entertain us with their talent. There was an impressive turn out of talented people young and old who had brought their own instrument to camp. A small group soon grew in a large crowd with everyone coming along to listen, appreciate and sing along. Some Scouts had just popped into the cafe for an ice-cream but soon took a pew on the hay bales to take in event. We were treated sounds of a flute, a beat box, guitars and a fiddle to name but a few.

With some of our young people showing us there talented sinning voices too. 'Let It Go ' was highly popular with the crowd. No foot was left un tapped by the end of the session. A good night was had bay all.

Our Jamboreette opened its gates and welcome visitors from all over Scotland to our Country Fair. Visitors come to experience a slice of culture from both our international and Scottish Scouts. The fair site was opened to the shrill of our pipe band who marched from the gate round to the front of our Kastle, leading a procession of welcome people. Visiting Countries as well as Scottish regions give visitors the opportunity to taste, play or make something all for the cost of an Atholl.

The Satellite Campers Have Landed

...and the have taken over this page...

Camp Fashion

This article is about the camp fashion of Blair Atholl due to the recent weather the grass has been covered in dew making the ground naturally wet therefore the complimentary footwear has been hiking boots not only because it stops rain from soaking campers socks but the sole fact that some brands have the enticing feature of lined fluff or wool from sole upwards.

Leg wear

The average choice of leg wear is either jogging bottoms or a kilt the kilt is normally accompanied by a sporran extending off two ropes about twenty centimeters long hanging off the belt holding the kilt together jogging bottoms similar to the hiking boots because of the fact that they can have certain brands with cotton lined insides jogging are naturally designed to be comfy.

Head wear

Head wear varies at Blare Atholl from Japanese headbands to Canadian caps there are lots of different choices including sunhats beanies other head wear also available.

Favourite Colours of The Camp!

The most popular

At the top of our rainbow leader board we had the colour blue with a total of 10 people making this the colour of choice, with a lot e also found wearing the colour.

Start Wearing Purple

We found that the colour purple was also very popular which we thought was iconic because of the famous Scout song 'Start Wearing Purple'.

Unique Colours

Some people had a special taste in colours choosing colours like teal, navy, turquoise and even rainbow! Also Megan from Stewart Subcamp chose the colour burgundy.

Layla Woodrow, Emily McCreight - 1st Bishopton Scouts.

Concerned Campers

A few simple steps could help reduce food waste

When food isn't eaten, the result is food waste. Today, an estimated one-ninth of all the food cooked in the Subcamps goes to waste. Some patrols in the Subcamps complained about being given too much food for breakfast and dinner. Also, following the Subcamp buddy dinner, staff recounted that nearly full pots of rice were thrown into the bin.

There are several hazards that result from food waste at Blair Atholl camp sites. One of the most important is the hygienic aspect:

Thankfully, there are plenty of actions we can take to make a significant difference. When patrols leave to pick up their food, check the leftovers first. For instance if you still have enough butter from the breakfast the day before, just tell them at the pickup station that no more butter is needed. Get only what you need. Use all contents from open packets and tins first before opening another. Preventing food waste is the most effective way to shrink its impact on the planet. An empty stomach can lead to cooking more than needed. Learn from past days. Think about how much rice you cooked the day before and how much of it was thrown into the bin. Just cook a smaller amount next time.

Awareness is a good first step. Talk with others and try to find a solution.

1 minute interview— with Sharon (Kastle Kurrents editor)

Q: What is it like being the editor of the newspaper? A: It can be quite tricky but you have to be friends with the printer and the printer has fallen out with me so that is last nights paper that has just come out the printer today. Being a good editor is having a good working relationship with your printer. You need to make sure you fill it with paper and toner regularly and give it the odd special clean cycle.

Dear Aunt Aggie,

I'm having so much fun at Blair Atholl, but I really miss my dog, Toby. What can I do to feel better?

Missing Toby

Dear Missing Toby,

Rest assured you're not alone! Lots of other campers are missing their pets, too. One way to feel better is to talk to other campers about Toby. Tell them how much fun he is, and ask them about their pets, too. Sharing stories about our pets helps them feel close when we're far from home—and it's a great way to make new friends, too!
